

London International Cruise Terminal | Tilbury | Forth Ports

Cruise - Tilbury (London)

- The London International Cruise Terminal is London's only deep-water, purpose-built cruise facility
- The 'quay' to the Capital City, located 22 nautical miles down-river from Central London
- Situated within 60 minutes of all the London 'hub' airports via the motor way network
- 348 metre, floating landing stage gives unrestricted ship access to all side doors
- Minimum ten metres depth alongside at LAT with no beam or air draft restrictions
- Large, well-appointed, historic Grade II* listed cruise terminal with two, elevated ship/shore gangways
- Short and long stay car parking facilities located adjacent to the cruise terminal
- Managed by the Ports Harbour Master's, all with 'cruise' vessel experience

www.capitalcruising.co.uk

« All ports that offer Cruise